PTS Consulting (UK) Ltd awarded 'Investor in People' Standard

PTS Consulting UK is delighted to announce that it has been approved as an 'Investor in People'. The Investor in People Standard provides a proven framework to help organisations improve business performance through a planned approach to developing strategies, taking action and evaluating performance. The Standard is awarded to an organisation that prioritises its efforts in improving its business through the management and development of its employees and meets all elements of the Standard in doing so.

PTS Consulting UK committed to working with the Investors in People framework in April 2007 and since then has been actively developing strategies, processes and procedures and the environment in which its people work in line with its core values of professionalism and quality of service.

Steve Kidd, Managing Director at PTS Consulting UK said: "The achievement of the Investor in People Standard is really good news for PTS Consulting UK and is a reflection of the hard work and commitment from people across the business. The dedication and professionalism of people at every level in the business have played a significant part in achieving this award. Moving forward we can build on this achievement to deliver more - for our people and through our people, using the Investors in People framework to continuously improve the way we work."
